Christian Lifestyle Statement

As a Christian community, Palomar Christian Conference Center places great importance upon those values and relationships that enrich the total process in creating a positive Christian spirit. To this end our community is committed to: (1) the pursuit of truth; (2) the process of spiritual formation; (3) mature relationships; and (4) responsible stewardship of our own possessions and all of life's resources.

To help maintain this spirit within our community, all members of the Palomar Christian Conference Center family have chosen the following lifestyle statement as the common focus for our Christian behavior and distinguishing moral character.

The members of the Palomar Christian Conference Center community desire to be a fellowship of persons fully committed to Jesus Christ as their Lord and obedient to the Scriptures as their rule of life. This expresses itself in a regular experience of forgiveness and renewal, continuous surrender to the Holy Spirit, growing awareness and reflection of Christ in daily life and dedication to the concerns that motivated His life on earth.

Historically, PCCC and its guests have been characterized by a conservative lifestyle. This has led to an emphasis upon refraining from common practices of our time which are expressly forbidden in the Scriptures, such as sexual relationships outside of marriage, homosexuality, drunkenness, theft, dishonesty and disobedience to the state, except in those rare instances that violate a biblically-informed conscience. Voluntary self-discipline is stressed at the conference center and rules are kept to a minimum. However, certain practices have been found to be detrimental to the common good, including the possession and use of alcoholic beverages, non-medical use of drugs, including the use of marijuana or tobacco in any form, gambling and indiscriminate attendance at the theater. All members of the conference center community are required to abstain from these practices, both on and off the conference center grounds.

These behavioral expectations are intended for our life together at PCCC, not necessarily as norms for all Christians everywhere. It is our hope that those led by the Lord to become a part of this distinctive community have already adopted this kind of disciplined lifestyle and that, in the process of expressing it, they will find their highest fulfillment

I agree and will commit myself to follow the above described lifestyle while serving as a volunteer for Palomar Christian Conference Center.
